Lyrics

They planted your corspe in the sand like a banner that rouses the valleys noon and night-- woe to them who raised a bleeding emblem that will instill violent resentment in generations.

-Abu Musab al-Zarqawi مصعب أبو الزرقاوي (October 30, 1966 – June 7, 2006)

For oft, when on my couch I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude;
And then my heart with pleasure fills,
And dances with the daffodils.

My heart leaps up when I behold
 A rainbow in the sky:
So was it when my life began;
So be it when I shall grow old,
 Or let me die!
The Child is father of the Man;
And I could wish my days to be Bound each to each by natural piety.

-William Wordsworth (April 7, 1770 - April 23, 1850)

*Tubas cum cytharis jam nunc assumite.
Triumphum Martyris jam nunc celebrate.
Angelorum et Virginum agmina.
Et cum voce laetitiae dicite.
Praeclara sitiens illa victoriae
In corpus saeviens virtute gratiae.*

Now take hold of trumpets and zythers
Now celebrate the triumph of a martyr.
Troops of the Angels and Virgins,
With the voice of gladness say:
Thirsting for a brilliant victory,
The fury in her body burst into the strength of grace,

*Tradit furentibus.
Membra mucronibus.*

O felix Caecilia!

*Et nos qui gemimus favens nos respice.
Saepe quem laesimus sta coram judice.
Liberis det mentibus ad caelum tendere.
Purgatosque sordibus fac tecum vivere.*

O felix Caecilia!

Her body she delivers to the furious.
She delivers to her members sharp instruments.

O blessed Cecilia!

And we who moan, look at us favorably.
Stand before the Judge whom we have often offended:
May our souls detached from their bodies go to Heaven.
Purified from defilements let them live in your home.

O blessed Cecilia!

Justice promotes common interest.
General opinion makes equality.
The good in politics is justice.

In all branches of knowlege
And in every kind of craft,
The end in view is some sort of good.

Dear Blessed Virgin Mary, Protectress of Our Faith and Mother of all Good, come to us with Your motherly love.
Open Your Most Pure Immaculate heart and allow the nectar of grace within It to pour down upon us.
Fill our souls with this sweet nectar.
Help us to dedicate our lives to Your service.
Lead us ever closer to Your Most Beloved Son.
Show us the path of salvation and steep our hearts in holiness.
Let our every goal be in accord with Your Immaculate Heart.
Touch our hearts dear Mother.

Amen.

The water skims a pay-like charm, to skip
And skip and never reach the other side.
A lake, with no shores-- is it possible?

Skies will meet the arrow landing of a
Quick size in the side, and just for love of Flowing water to see lakes complacent.

A skipping stone that --gushing out the side
As slowly as a lake placated with
Its water placid and reflectant-- will Always narrow inclined people,

Some shore rocks. A paystub for charm.

-Olaf Wessels (February 4th, 1982, - current)

Great wrong I doe,
I can it not deny,
To that most saced
Empresse my dear dred,

Not finishing her
Queene of faery,
That mote enlarge her
Liuing praises dead:

But Lodwick, this of Grace to me ared:
Doe ye not thinck the
'Complishment of it,

Sufficient worke for
One man's simple head,
All were as the rest
But rudely writ.

-Edmund Spenser (1553 – January 13, 1599)

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone,
Where the slave-whip ceaseless swings,
Where the noisesome insect stings,
Where the Fever Demon strews,
Poison with the falling dews,
Where the sickly sunbeams glare
Through the hot and misty air,--
Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone,
From Virginia's hills and water,--
Woe is me, my stolen daughters!

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone.
There no mother's eye is near them,
There no mother's ear can hear them,
Never, when the torturing lash
Seams their back with many a gash,
Shall a mother's kindness bless them,
Or a mother's arms caress them.

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone,
From Virginia's hills and waters,--
Woe is me, my stolen daughters!

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone.
Oh, when weary, sad, and slow,

From the field at night they go,
Faint with toil, and rack'd with pain,
To their cheerless homes again--
There no brother's voice shall greet them--
There no father's welcome meet them.

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone,
From Virginia's hills and waters,--
Woe is me, my stolen daughters!

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone.

From the tree whose shadow lay
On their childhood's place of play
From the cool spring where they drank--
Rock, and hill, and rivulet bank--
From the solemn house of prayer,
And the holy counsels there--

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone,
From Virginia's hills and waters,--
Woe is me, my stolen daughters!

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone--

Toiling through the weary day,
And at night the Spoiler's prey.
Oh, that they had earlier died,
Sleeping calmly, side by side,
Where the tyrant's power is o'er,
And the fetter galls no more!

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone,
From Virginia's hills and waters,--
Woe is me, my stolen daughters!

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone.

By the holy love He beareth--
By the bruised reed he spareth--
Oh, may He, to whom alone
All their cruel wrongs are known,
Still their hope and refuge prove,
With a more than mother's love.

Gone, gone-- sold and gone,
To the rice-swamp dank and lone,
From Virginia's hills and waters,--
Woe is me, my stolen daughters!

-John Greenleaf Whittier (December 17, 1807 - September 7, 1892)

In the Desert

I saw a creature, naked, bestial
Who, squatted upon the ground,
Held out his heart in his hands,
And ate of it.
I said, "Is it good, friend?"
"It is bitter-bitter," he answered;
"But I like it
Because it is bitter,
And because it is my heart."

-Stephen Crane (November 1, 1871 – June 5, 1900)

SIN:

I offered evil acts as faithless depth and fraudulent service of Devils. Heavy punishment is not the equivalent of my guilt.

GOODWILL:

- 1) A malicious good-will would wish wretches to exist as objects of compassion.
- 2) My love of suffering pierces me but not too deeply.

SUFFERING:

- 1) Suffering is commendable, but none is loveable.
- 2) No suffering injures the Lord. What Inequity!
- 3) Pity a person who rejoices in wickedness over a person who feels suffering.

COMPASSION:

- 1) Fraternal compassion prefers no cause for sorrow-- sorrow is for a wretch.
- 2) A lover of souls shows compassion free of mixed motives.

MERCY:

- 1) Suffering only scratches the surface, but none is loveable.
- 2) In inflammation and repulsion, your mercy faithfully hovered over me from afar.

-St. Augustine (354 a.d. - 430 a.d.)
[translated from the Italian by Henry Chadwick, 1990]

There's a regal motto
Given for display,
An emblem sign fair
We lift it up today.
Lux et Veritas

Over land and sea
Where ever men may dwell,
Make the tidings known
Of the righteous motto.
Now the truth to tell.
Lux et Ve-ri-tas for Yale!

When the glory dawns,
'Tis draw-ing ver-y near,
'Tis hast'n ing day by day,
Then be-fore o-ur name
Our foe shall disappear
For these words we'll say...

This musical score is for a choir of eight parts, labeled S1, A1, T1, B1, S2, A2, T2, and B2. The music is in G major with a key signature of four sharps. The score is divided into two systems by vertical bar lines. The first system (measures 18-24) includes lyrics such as 'li-tude;', 'For oft, when on my couch I', 'of so - - - - li - tude;', 'so - - - - li - tude;', '(slide)', 'up - on that in - ward eye which is the bliss', 'of so -', 'of so - - - - li - tude;', 'For', 'of so - - - - li - tude;', 'For', and 'of so - - - - li - tude of so - li - tude; For'. The second system (measures 25-31) includes lyrics such as 'of so - - - - li - tude; For', 'of so - - - - li - tude; For', and 'of so - - - - li - tude; For'. The music features various vocal techniques, including slides, sustained notes, and rhythmic patterns. Measure 18 includes a dynamic instruction 'slide' above the T1 staff. Measures 25-31 include dynamic instructions 'f' (fortissimo) above the B1 and T2 staves.

poem by Olaf Wessels

Please Note: Use a long vowel for the word "a" and a short vowel for the word "the".

The musical score consists of five systems of music. System 1 (measures 1-4) features Alto and Tenor voices. The Tenor part has a 'solo' section where it sings while the Alto rests. System 2 (measures 5-8) features Soprano II and Alto voices. The Alto part also has a 'solo' section. System 3 (measures 9-12) features Soprano II, Alto, and Bass voices. The Bass part starts at measure 12. System 4 (measures 13-16) features Soprano II, Alto, and Bass voices. The Bass part starts at measure 13. System 5 (measures 17-20) features all four voices: Soprano II, Alto, Bass, and Tenor. The Tenor part starts at measure 18.

After mm. 73, sing mm. 26 - 53 as a canon starting every 6 measures. Begin the canon with only 4 SATB voices, then add 4 SATB voices at a time. Take the repeat back to measure 26, continuing the canon until the ensemble's maximum divisi is finally reached. The canon may continue on as long as the ensemble wishes.

However, the canon shall ultimately finish abruptly, ending the piece. A very long and gradual crescendo spanning the entire canon shall bring the piece to a passionate climax. Allow just a few measures of attentive silence before the piece is actually over.

Staff 1 (Measures 26-29):

- Soprano (S): sac - ed, to the most, sac - ed, Em - - - - -

Sing mm. 69 - 73 as a canon, starting after every 2 measures. Sing tutti always, but after every 2 measures have group of 4 SATB singers break off and repeat back to measure 69 to start the canon for themselves. Do this until the ensemble's maximum divisi has been reached.

Continue repeating mm. 69 - 73 as long as the ensemble wishes. The canon should build with a gradual crescendo, and when the canon is complete, go back to measure 23 and start the canon there. (Start that one with just 4 SATB voices, and keep starting the canon with 4 more SATB singers until the ensemble is again at tutti.

The Farewell

of a Virginia slave mother to her daughters sold into southern bondage

Ryan Charles Ramer
poem by John Greenleaf Whittier

The musical score consists of six staves of music, each with a different clef (G, C, F, C, G, C) and key signature. The lyrics are integrated into the music, with some words written above the staff and others below. Measure numbers (7, 14, 21, 28, 35, 42, 49, 56, 63, 70, 77, 84, 91, 98) are placed at the beginning of certain lines. The music features various note values (eighth, sixteenth, thirty-second), rests, and dynamic markings like 'slide' and 'dotted'.

Gone! Gone! Gone! Gone! Gone! Gone!

This musical score consists of five staves of music, likely for a band or orchestra. The first four staves are in common time and feature lyrics in a mix of soprano and bass clefs. The lyrics describe a man's despair over the loss of his daughters and his beloved. The final staff is in 6/8 time and consists entirely of the word 'Gone!' repeated six times.

Tragic Pity

Each repeat on page 3 is Da Capo, thereby alternating between tutti sections and the individual category sections on page 3 (individual categories = SIN; GOODWILL(1); GOODWILL (2); etc). After the last category, MERCY, repeats Da Capo, the piece ends suddenly at the end of measure 6.
